

The Language of Liberation

What is language?

Is there a natural language in creation?

What is liberation?

Can language help bring about understanding?

Dr Stephen Thompson, lecturer in Sanskrit in the School of Economic Science and at Middlesex University, will explore these questions and the role that Sanskrit can play in developing spiritual understanding

Sunday 21 June 2009

from 9.30 am to 12.15 pm at the Croydon & Bromley School of Philosophy, 13 Addiscombe Grove, East Croydon CR0 5LR www.philosophyincroydon.org

020 8688 2634

Light refreshments will be available from 9.10 am and in the midway break

All are warmly invited to this free talk